4. Celebrations

- We have a new assistant principal, Carletta Taylor, and she's been a great addition to our school.
- We have a new marquee on the front of the building and a new sound system in the gym.
- This summer our staff read a book about kids these days and how they need connections with people. We've been working hard to develop positive and engaging relationships with each student.
- We're in the 2nd year of our 3 years with USBE's Assessment to Achievement Plus program focused on multi-lingual learners. We continue to participate in professional development and site visits with outside coaches. We have about 50 new students this year who are multi-lingual learners. The JPJMS Latinos in Action students are visiting each Monday to help in an assigned classroom.
- We have a full-time STEM teacher for grades K-6, and she's off to a great start.
- Our Family Learning Center preschool for 4 year olds reopened this week for the first time since COVID.
- The PTA sponsored a very successful carnival last week and our staff was very involved and supportive. We had a great turnout from families, and students had a really good time.
- We'll be starting Battle of the Books for all 4-6 graders, thanks to a partnership with our PTA.
